$35 Million for Sewers

Willard Bosserman, Extension Natural Resource Agent, said the Nov. 5 ballot will be on bonding issues. One is $35 million which will all pay local governments for sewage treatment plants, plants to existing plants and for new sewers. It is to buy 210 new sewage treatment plants and improve 126 existing plants. The purpose of this portion of bond is to wage war against pollution. Many of the lakes and streams are getting dirtier. We have enough sewers and treatment plants to handle growth of municipal and industrial wastes. Communities who have plans for treatment improvements will no doubt have some advantage time wise over those who do not have plans. The townships around Houghton Lake have submitted a request for help through their Houghton Lake Regional Planning Commission. This bond will make it possible for Houghton Lake to install a long needed sanitary system. The Village of Roscommon may need some of the funds to remodel their treatment plant. It is doubtful that the Water Resources Commission will stand still for an expansion of the sewerage collection system without some sort of adjustment to the present plan to keep from putting additional effluent into the AuSable River. The city of Grayling has signed an agreement with the Water Resources Commission on a water clean up program which will require some of the bond money for completion. Another part of the bond issue is $100 million for recreation. $30 million would go directly to local governments for playgrounds, parks, and recreation centers. The remaining $70 million would be spent for state parks, fishing areas, forest campgrounds, hunting areas and hiking trails. This part is important for improvements in fishing sites and forest campgrounds along our northern Michigan streams in order to supply orderly access to the water without causing damage to the stream bank. Proper public access will help eliminate the trespassing problem on the private property.

Frederick, and Skyline. Also listed will be Snow Sports accommodations throughout the county, as are restaurants and dining room services, a dressing and happy hour section is devoted to fun places for after hour relaxation.

Chum Longworth, manager of the Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce, stated that the Grayling Region is going all out for the family snowmobiling business and that D. L. Riddle, president of the Grayling Trailmaster Snowmobile Club, Duane Brooks, John Stampf, William Tarr, Glen Schaap, and Joe Belcher were invaluable in providing the layout work for the 200 miles of marked snowmobile trails throughout Crawford County.

This organization will coordinate the efforts of all the groups, pool their money, resources and time to see that there are no duplicates and that things will be distributed evenly. Committees were set up at the meeting to take care of the list of names, packaging, delivery, etc.

Mrs. Robert Springs was appointed chairman of the knitting committee. There are a lot of knitters in the community. They must have spare yarn. Both knitters and yarn are needed. Won't you volunteer for one or both? Call Mrs. Springs if you will, telephone 348-9223.

Defeat Harrison 16-7

Vikings at Gaylord Friday

DAVE HOLMES outlegs one Harrison defender and gets assist from Allen Lowe on another as he picks up part of his total 115 yards he gained against the Hornets last Friday evening in the Vikings 16-7 win.

Friday the 13th unlucky? Not so, if you are a Viking football fan. The evening was perfect, the score was also perfect, 16-7.

Last Friday at the local gridiron, the Vikings stoned a 7-6 defeat by Harrison last year as they put together two touchdowns and a field goal to hand the Hornets a 16-7 defeat.

With the win, the Vikings ended the Hornets victory string at eight as they had gone undefeated last year.

Grayling put all their scoring into the first half, then fought off a determined Hornet squad in the second half, to hold them to one TD on a pass on the second play in the fourth quarter.

The Vikings' first score was set up with a pass from Mike Smock to Butch Hayes which carried to the two yard line. From there Smock punched over for the score. The try for extra point was blocked.

A field goal from 32 yards out by Smock in the first quarter added three more to the Vikings' score.

With a little over two minutes to play in the first half, Dale Papendick picked up an errant Hornet pitchout and went in to score from ten yards out, the extra point was good and the Vikings led at halftime 16-0.

In the second quarter, the Hornets quarterback, Ron Francette, electrified the crowd as he broke over right tackle and raced 90 yards, only to be hauled down from behind, by Allen Lowe on the two yard line. The Viking defense held and on third and three forced a fumble with Smock recovering.

The third quarter was a scoreless battle as both teams were stopped on drives by fumbles and intercepted passes. The Vikings had drives stopped on the eight and four yard line and six inch line.

On the second play in the fourth quarter Harrison scored on a 30 yard pass play from Francette to Hileman. Mike Popard converted the extra point, to finish the scoring for the night.

Dave Holmes led the Vikings rushing attack with 115 yards. Both the Vikings offensive and defensive teams played well in their first game of the season.

This Friday evening the Grayling Vikings will travel to Gaylord to meet the Blue Devils in another non-conference game, set for 8:00 p.m.

Gaylord won their opening game, 27-12, against Traverse City St. Francis last Saturday.

On Sept. 27th the Vikings will start their quest for the championship in the newly formed Northern Lower Michigan League when they will entertain the Onaway Cardinals.

Member schools in the NLML include: Mancelona, East Jordan, Grayling, Harbor Springs, Pellston, Onaway, Kalkaska and Petoskey St. Francis.

Community Service Organizes

The Crawford County Community Service met Wednesday, Sept. 11, with 17 interested people present. In case you have missed some of the newspaper stories that told about it, here is what it's about.

For years churches and organizations have helped with food baskets, clothing and toys at Christmas time for the ones that did not have so much. But every group found itself to be in a rut. Too many duplicates and over lapping. Some families received too much and some not enough. So the new group was formed.

This organization will coordinate the efforts of all the groups, pool their money, resources and time to see that there are no duplicates and that things will be distributed evenly.

Committees were set up at the meeting to take care of the list of names, packaging, delivery, etc.

Mrs. Robert Springs was appointed chairman of the knitting committee. There are a lot of knitters in the community. They must have spare yarn. Both knitters and yarn are needed. Won't you volunteer for one or both? Call Mrs. Springs if you will, telephone 348-9223.

Highlights of Grayling Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 106 Since 1926

Early in the year, 1926, the American Legion Auxiliary Unit, in the State of Michigan were asked to submit histories of their many activities in the years since their inception, to go along with the American Legion's celebration of their 50th anniversary.

A beautiful and concise history was compiled, from minutes on file of meetings held in the years of our existence, by Goldie Moore, and sent to the State Organization at the State Convention held in Lansing our Unit was awarded the only prize given, a $50.00 defense bond and informed that the history had been sent on to the National Organization.

At a meeting of the local unit held on the second Tuesday in August, tribute was paid to the past secretaries for their efforts in keeping minutes so that the compiling of a prize winning history was possible. Seven of the 18 past secretaries were present at a very special invitation from the Unit. Four of the past secretaries are deceased.

How to Obtain Aerial Photography

By Germaine E. Dennis County Office Manager

The Michigan ASCS State Office at 1405 S. Harrison Road in East Lansing, now has aerial photography coverage of the entire State. These aerial photographs provide an effective means of determining field acreages in an economical and timely manner and are one of the basic tools for determining program compliance for Federal farm programs. These same aerial photographs are used by other Federal and State agencies for use in forestry purposes, urban development and highway planning.

In recent years, hunters, fishermen and all types of sportsmen have been using the aerial photograph to plot their way through the wilderness. Enlargements are available to show forest trails, swamps and clearings. Fishermen can use photos to see sandbars, channels and creeks on Michigan's waterways.

Enlargements are available up to 12 inches to the mile and priced from $1 to $7. Lower peninsula photographs cover approximately 2 1/4 square miles.

In order to determine which aerial photograph covers the land you want, we recommend you visit the local county ASCS office. The local county ASCS office has photographs of their county only. If you desire photos of other areas, please send all inquiries to the State ASCS office.

The office for Crawford, Kalkaska and Oscoda Counties is located at 303 James Street, Grayling. When ordering photos give accurate description of property. When ordering from a county office, do not send money. We will fill out the order blank in the County office and send to you so that you can order direct.

You are urged to order your photo early. Orders for upper peninsula photography takes 3 to 4 weeks for delivery. These photographs are ideal for framing and would also make useful and unusual gifts for any occasion.

Crawford - AuSable School System Organizes Curriculum Study

Faculty members of the Crawford - AuSable School System have launched a K-12 curriculum study for the purpose of evaluating and up-grading the school system's curriculum.

There are many, many facets to a school's program, all of which are grouped under the general heading, curriculum. Not only a school's course offering, but also teaching methods, teaching materials, student grouping, scheduling of classes, evaluating student progress, and after-school activities come up for consideration during a curriculum study.

Faculty members have divided into seven study councils each of which assumes a responsibility for studying one phase of the school's program. Following are a list of the seven study councils and their respective chairmen: Art and music, Garrett Bufe; mathematics, Robert Prouse; health and physical education, Jim Price; vocational education, Bill Kinkert; science, Carl Hatfield; social studies, Jack Trudgoun; and language arts, Carl Minor.

Each study council consists of teachers from all grade levels with a major preparation or interest in their study area. All grade levels are included in each council to insure continuity from one grade level to the next as the curriculum is developed.

A Curriculum Steering Committee consisting of the assistant superintendent, the three building principals, and each council chairman has been formed to coordinate the study, help in determining its direction, and consider problems and objectives of the study as a whole unit.

This curriculum study is planned to be a continuing process aimed first at correcting local deficiencies, planning program changes, evaluating program changes, and then continually examining carefully what is new and innovative in education.

The curriculum steering committee and each study council plan to meet at least once each month after school. The only exception to the policy of after school meetings are the meetings scheduled for 2:15 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18. School will be dismissed early on this day to allow study councils to meet.

To help gain some insight into new programs being conducted in other schools, as well as help in planning for curriculum changes, several consultants from the Department of Education and Universities will be asked to come to speak to the faculty.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Madsen and the People of Grayling,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people in Grayling who helped make my trip to Brazil this summer possible. I would not have traded this opportunity for anything in the world. It was marvelous. I only wish everyone could have the chance to visit another country as I did. I know it is an experience they would cherish and remember for the rest of their lives. I know I will.

I arrived in Rio de Janeiro on Thursday, July 3. I was met at the airport by my "new mother," my "new brother," and my two "new sisters." My "father" was at work. He is a manager in an investment bank. Then after the greetings and handshakes we all squeezed into their little VW and took off for my new summer residence, which is a third floor apartment in Ipanema, two blocks from the beach. The first thing I did when I arrived was to unpack, and then wait for dinner which wasn't until eight o'clock. During this time I was given a synopsis of all the members of the family.

First was my "father," Luiz Raphael Lemos Basto, who as I already mentioned, works in a bank. He is of Portuguese descent and comes from Port Alegre in the southern part of the state, so to teach him we would call him a "Gaúcho" which is a type of cowboy found in that region.

Next comes my "mother," Tracy Lemos Basto, she prefers to be called Cicy. She is of German descent and came from the more tropical northern part of the country. She used to teach English, so of course, she spoke it very fluently. She also speaks French and German and their native tongue, Portuguese. She is a wonderful cook, but as we had a maid to do the cooking, she seldom cooked or baked. She also is a very good seamstress and made almost all of my "sisters'" clothes.

Then comes my oldest "sister," Angela Lemos Basto; she is 20. She is a senior in the University and is studying Industrial Design. When she was 16 she was also an exchange student in Trenton, Michigan. In fact she was in the first group of exchange students to come from South America under Youth for Understanding.

My only "brother" was Antonio Lemos Basto, age 18. As yet he is not in the University but is studying very hard so he can pass his entrance exams. He also was an exchange student under YFU two years ago in Pontiac.

The youngest of the family is Patricia Lemos Basto; she is 15 years old. She is in her last year of junior high at Tereza College, a private, Catholic girls' school. If Patricia isn't studying she is most certainly at the beach which is just two blocks from the apartment, which makes it very convenient.

Rio de Janeiro is the second largest city in Brazil, with a population of about five million, so you can see it was quite a change for me. Up until the building of Brasília-Rio was the capital, so when the capital was moved they had to do something with Rio, so they made a state out of it and called it Guanabara. That is why you can look across the bay from the city of Rio and see the state of Guanabara. Rio is the most beautiful city in Brazil. It is a beautiful city and I believe one of the most beautiful and scenic cities in the world. First it has the famous Sugarloaf Mountain, which is visited by a cable car that looks as if it will crash into the mountain as it ascends, but of course it doesn't. Next is the luxurious Copacabana beach which is all the advertisements say it is and more. I never got to go swimming there but I visited many times. Then there is what I thought to be the most beautiful and outstanding feature of the entire city, the "Corcovado" or the "Christ." It stands atop one of Rio's highest peaks and can be seen from almost any place in all of Rio, no matter where you are you can look up and be certain to see this inspiring statue.

As you probably know Brazil is the only South American country whose official language is Portuguese instead of Spanish. But I think it would be better to call it Brazilian as it is so different from the Portuguese spoken in Portugal that the Portuguese I learned before I left was no help to me at all. The climate of Rio, although winter time, was much like our summer only slightly cooler, about 80 degrees. It rained quite frequently however, and that helped keep it cooler. The vegetation there is quite beautiful for being the winter season. There are of course a lot of palm trees, about 10 or more varieties at least. I think Brazil has them all. There are also banana trees everywhere, and a lot more that I couldn't begin to name. Lining the mountain roads everywhere were millions of tiny flowers of all colors in the rainbow. They were simply beautiful. Naturally the customs of Brazil are quite different. The most unusual being the meal times. Breakfast was at whatever time you got up, which was usually about 9:00 o'clock. Lunch, the big meal of the day, was at two o'clock, and dinner was at eight.

These are just a few of the things I saw and did, and most important the things I learned. I think this summer has helped me to grow up, just a little, and has given me a better outlook on the world and its problems. It has also made me take a new view of myself, my community, and my country and I can no longer say that I don't care what happens somewhere else and that it doesn't concern me because I don't even know the people. I think this is a selfish attitude that many, too many, Americans possess. Now I know other people in other countries and I do care what happens to them and their nation.

Someday I hope to return to Brazil, perhaps to study. There is so much of this vast country that I missed, as it is almost the size of the entire United States, that I feel we have only just met and I would like to develop it into a warm friendship. My summer has finally come to an end and I know my life has become fuller and richer as a result of this rewarding opportunity I was fortunate enough to have. I hope that in the near future we will be able to send more students to other countries because I know it helps not only the student, but the country he represents. Thank you again very much, or as they say in Portuguese, "Muito Obrigado."

Sincerely Yours,
Julio K. Thayer

Attend The Church Of Your Choice

Atoms and Apple Cores

Mark will be fourteen years old this month. He is very thoughtful these days. Many an hour is spent on the back lawn with watercolors and pad, musingly thinking or dreaming.

Boundless curiosity is his, and "why," a certain response to every answer he receives. Besides painting, he likes to hunt, swim, golf, read, and putter in the basement with test tubes. Only recently, girls have been included with rifles and missile shots as a favored topic of conversation.

He talks about God, too. In his pursuit of answers to the universe, he instigates family discussions that range from ethics to eternity, from atoms to apple cores.

It's small wonder that I thank God daily for His Church and its teachings. Its truths help me answer with assurance the questions Mark asks in his search for understanding.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

All for the Church. The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Duty

ore dissenters go too far in dwelling on U.S. affairs, they might take a look at our nearest neighbor, Cuba, where government runs the show. Cuban government has moved to tighten its control over the labor force. The eight-hour day has become a ridiculous thing. Instead, a "work discipline," the length of which is to be determined by revolutionary duty is being pushed as propaganda in an effort to spur lagging labor. The emphasis is all on strengthening discipline. Officials are urged to increase vigor of the workers.

is the end result of a revolution in a country where all businesses and property have been taken over by a controlling clique, with no higher goal than to take what it wants. This kind of revolution is nowhere, but to barbarism and oppression. The kind we now see in the cities of America should be stopped. It is no part of our effort to broaden opportunities for all regardless of race, creed or color.

Even the patience is being 'taxed' but that seems to make no difference to our legislators or administrators as they can think of anything to tax, and then let us worry about finding a way to pay it."

Women of the Moose

A meeting was held on Sept. 9 at the Moose Lodge with a good turnout. This was chapter night and one new member was enrolled, Irene Wales, wife of Duane Wales. A jewelry sale was held between members. Lunch was served after the meeting was adjourned. The Sept. 18 meeting also had a good turnout and Gov. Art Stephenson came up and talked to the girls. Junior graduate regent Lillian King presented Velda Stephenson, wife of Art, with a one year dues receipt for her help in putting panelling in the dining room.

Lillian King received a call letter to go to Marshall on Oct. 27 to receive her Green Cap. This is another step up in the Women of the Moose. Upon checking the records of the Grayling chapter we find Lillian is the only one to ever receive the Green Cap.

A rummage sale is being planned for Oct. 25 and 26. More details on this later.

The 1969 Cadillac is dramatically restyled to look lower, wider and longer. The Fleetwood Brougham (top) shows the new dual horizontal headlamps and the combined parking and cornering lights wrapped around the leading edge of the front fender. The familiar cross-hatch grille features horizontal and vertical bars in a "floating fin" effect.

The ultimate in luxury personal cars, the Cadillac Eldorado, (bottom) features styling changes while continuing the strong character lines popularized by two successful years of production and sales. A new finely textured grille bears a family resemblance because of the cross-hatch theme. Elegant new wheel discs add distinction to the side view.

Among the convenience and safety related improvements are: a new seat belt system with automatic adjusters; a new Dual Comfort seat, that allows the driver's seat to be adjusted separately from the passenger's; and a closed cooling system, with a "closed" radiator and translucent reservoir permitting visual checking of the fluid level without exposure to hot coolant.

WASHINGTON and Small Business
BY C. WILSON HARRIS
Sawed Democratic Jobs

Perhaps the American public is so overwhelmed by the disclosures about Vietnam, rioting and looting, juvenile delinquency, the hippies, the monetary crisis and other momentous events that they are what might be termed "soul weary."

It is perhaps strange that, unlike a bygone day, there is not a mass expression of revulsion against the excesses of the Office of Economic Opportunity, the official name of the War on Poverty.

Congressional investigations have so far uncovered a deep-seated cancer behind so many of OEO operations. Probably the most lurid is the financing by OEO of juvenile gangs in Chicago, and the allegations that even a church was used as an arsenal in which to store arms.

There is no question but what some poverty exists in the United States. How much of this is bona fide poverty among people who cannot help themselves, how much is poverty created by foolish and ridiculous government regulations, and how much is due to individual resistance to working and helping themselves is a moot question.

Yet, there seems to be but little question that despite the billions thrown around by the War on Poverty people, little, if any, good has been achieved.

Letters of Interest

Sept. 5, 1963
 Grayling Chamber of Commerce
 Grayling, Michigan
 Gentlemen:

Last Sunday my wife and I took a ride over to your lovely community. Our purpose was to visit the Bear Museum which we had heard so much about. We had a very nice visit with Fred Bear whom we have known through archery for a number of years. His museum is certainly an asset not only to your city but to the state of Michigan. We had a delightful time.

But the purpose of this letter is to express our appreciation for the way your community has beautified the streets with petunias. We are sure all the effort put forth by one of your committees has been rewarded by the enjoyment visitors to Grayling receive.

It's too bad more communities don't take pride in their streets as you do.

Thank you for a lovely visit. Your neighbors from Alpena and Ossineke,
 Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeLao

Fair and slightly cooler weather will rule Thursday, highs being in the upper 60's. Friday will be partly cloudy and warmer. Temperatures will edge back up to the lower 70's. Increasing cloudiness and warmer weather is the outlook for Saturday, with showers likely by evening, highs will be in the mid-70's. Rain will fall Sunday, with temperatures dropping down to the lower 60's.

Temperatures for the next five days will average near the normal high of 68 and normal low of 45.

Precipitation will total near 1/4 inch.

Last week's average high 72, average low 47, which is two degrees above normal.

We received 1.28 inches of precipitation last week, and 2.64 inches so far this month. The normal precipitation for September is about 3 inches. We will most likely go far above that this month.

SOIL DISTRICT
 PLANNING JOINT OCTOBER MEETING

By Daniel P. Keesling
 Soil Conservation Service

The Crawford-Roscommon Soil Conservation District is planning a joint meeting in October with the Westford Soil Conservation District to discuss ways of building a tree and shrub sales program. The meeting will be held in the Roscommon Township Hall in Houghton Lake.

The Crawford-Roscommon SCD definitely plans to offer trees and shrubs for sale to private landowners, schools, local governing bodies, etc. to plant for forestry, wildlife and beautification purposes. Order forms will be available near the end of the year for ordering trees for delivery and planting in the spring of '69.

A letter was received from the State Soil Conservation Committee inviting the District Directors to a dinner meeting in Gladwin in October. Several directors plan to attend and the board intends to talk other districts what is happening in the Crawford-Roscommon SCD.

The District board reviewed their Memorandum of Understanding with the U.S.D.A. Soil Conservation Service in order to keep current on jobs that each organization has agreed to do.

The District Directors made tentative plans for a directors tour next spring during which they will select a district cooperator to receive a conservation award. The award will be presented at the District's 1969 Annual Meeting.

Owners of new homes aren't the only ones who can enjoy the modern comfort and convenience of whole-house electric heating. Today, families who live in houses of virtually any age or architectural style can convert to clean electric heat.

Electric heat fits into home remodeling plans because it's less expensive to buy and install than other heating systems, and the variety of electric heating systems available makes it easy to meet all kinds of remodeling problems.

Thanks to new materials, techniques and equipment, installation that keeps heating costs down and family comfort high is easy to add to existing homes. And remember, the house insulated for electric heat is a breeze to cool with electric air conditioning.

Of all the pro football which one do you think finished in first place (most different years) Answer is not Green Bay. It's the New York Giants. They've been in first place 15 different years.

Oddly enough, here's a ball question that looks but it's surprising to fans - even the real ones - can answer it. Try it on your friends.

Everybody knows a football field is 100 yards long, goal line to goal line. do you know how wide the football field is? A ball field is 160 feet, or yards wide.

I bet you didn't know the 1969 "all now" Chevrolet has arrived and so soon at Schorr Motor Grayling. That's right, the boys at Bill Schorr's lot are wheeling and dealing because we want those beauties out on the road. Drop in and see yourself.
